

that correct?

SENATOR AVERY: Yes, I definitely am.

SENATOR LANDIS: And Senator Schimek, I understand that Senator Avery is prepared to accept your amendment at this point. To the extent that there is additional time, could I ask the Chair to survey the additional lights and ask if they wish to speak to an amendment which both the maker of the amendment and the bill agree that they will accept at this moment and adopt? Could I ask in the rest of this time for an inventory of the additional lights, if we need to talk about this amendment more when both parties agree to it.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Thank you, Senator Landis. Senator Crosby, do you wish to speak to the Schimek amendment.

SENATOR LANDIS: Oh, no, no. I was yielding my time to the Chair to ask for an inventory at the time. I am not yielding my floor. I am asking if...

PRESIDENT ROBAK: I am asking, she is the the next speaker. Senator Crosby, do you wish to speak? No. Senator Schimek. No. Senator Wesely. No, Senator, I'm only asking whether or not you wish to speak to the Schimek amendment if Senator Schimek and Senator Avery agree to the amendment? I am not yielding the time at this time. Is that a yes or a no? Senator Pirsch. Senator Bernard-Stevens, is that a yes or a no?

SENATOR BERNARD-STEVENS: That is a yes.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Senator Hall. Senator Hillman, yes, you do wish to speak? No. Senator Bohlke, and Senator Chambers, do you wish to speak? Not at this time, I am asking yes or no.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: At some other point on the process.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Okay, then, Senator Landis, there are two speakers left.

SENATOR LANDIS: Thank you, then I will make a brief use of time here. The Schimek amendment is entirely satisfactory with me. I will be happy to vote for the amendment.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: One minute.
